The Mining History Association

OFFICERS
Ed Hunter, president
Ron Brown, vice president
Mark Vendl, secretary
James E. Fell, Jr., treasurer
Robert Sorgenfrei, membership and office coordinator

COUNCIL MEMBERS
Jeremy Mouat, past president
Chris Huggard, 2001-2003
Eleanor Swent, 2001-2003
Ruth Ann Gardner, 2002-2004
James McBride, 2002-2004
James Sell, 2002-2004
Silvia Pettem, 2003-2005
Duane Smith, 2003-2005

Thanks to the Cripple Creek and Victor Gold Mining Company for their generous support of the Mining History Association's activities.

THE MINING HISTORY JOURNAL
Eric L. Clements, Editor
Barbara A. Clements, Compositor

The Mining History Journal is provided to all members of the Association. Membership is open to anyone interested in the history of mining and metallurgy. Annual dues are $25 per calendar year. Members receive quarterly newsletters and the journal. Information or membership applications may be obtained from Robert Sorgenfrei, Mining History Association, Colorado School of Mines Library, 1400 Illinois Street, Golden, CO 80401; or at www.mininghistoryassociation.org.

The journal welcomes manuscripts on any subject in mining or metallurgical history in any era or region. Manuscripts, books for review, announcements, inquiries regarding advertising or the purchase of back issues of the journal, and other correspondence related to the journal should be sent to: Mining History Journal, Department of History, MS2960, Southeast Missouri State University, Cape Girardeau, MO 63701, or eclements@semo.edu.

Manuscripts should be submitted typed, double-spaced, and with endnotes. The journal only accepts manuscripts on IBM compatible computer disks, with Microsoft WORD or WordPerfect formats required. A clean paper copy of the manuscript is requested along with the disk. All articles are required to follow the style formats specified in the Chicago Manual of Style (14th edition). Illustrations should not be embedded in the article, but their locations should be indicated in the article text. Submit photos as originals or as separate files scanned as jpegs at a minimum of 300dpi. Authors are responsible for obtaining copyright use permissions for all illustrations and for paying any associated fees.

Articles appearing in this journal are abstracted and indexed in HISTORICAL ABSTRACTS and AMERICA: HISTORY AND LIFE.

Contents © 2003 by The Mining History Journal

Cover Photos: A 310-ton capacity truck moves another load of ore to the crusher at the Cresson Mine in the Cripple Creek District, Colorado. The District hosted the 2003 convention of the Mining History Association. (Editor’s photos.)
Clark C. Spence

Clark Christian Spence was born in Great Falls, Montana, on 25 May 1923. He grew up in the Northwest, where he lived in both Montana and Idaho. He served in the Army Air Corps during World War II. After the war he returned to the West, where he completed his bachelor's and master's degrees at the University of Colorado, Boulder. Spence earned his Ph.D. with Ernest S. Osgood at the University of Minnesota. His doctoral dissertation appeared as British Investments and the American Mining Frontier, 1860-1901 (Cornell University Press, 1958), published with support from the American Historical Association's Albert J. Beveridge Award Committee in 1956.

Spence taught briefly at Carlton College in Minnesota, then spent the remainder of his career at Penn State University from 1955 to 1960, and the University of Illinois at Urbana from 1960 until 1990. When he went to Illinois in 1960, Clark Spence replaced agricultural historian Fred A. Shannon. Like Osgood and Shannon, Spence had broad research interests in the history of the American West. While at Illinois he mentored seven doctoral students. Four of them completed dissertations that examined mining history, one studied agricultural laborers, another looked at railroad workers, and the final student focused on the Civil War.

Clark Spence is a founding member of the Mining History Association, and has fashioned a solid record of scholarship on American mining. His Mining Engineers and the American West: The Lace Boot Brigade, 1849-1933 (Yale University Press, 1970) strengthened Spence's reputation as a student of the mining industry. He is a past president of both the Western History Association (1969-70) and the Mining History Association (1992). Although primarily known to members of the MHA for his mining scholarship, Spence has also written on agriculture, American economic history, Montana, and the Salvation Army colonies.

Clark's scholarship is invariably characterized by an immersion in historical sources. His long-time friend Gene Gressley notes that Clark not only used primary sources, but also helped others to acquire them. In particular, Gressley credits Spence with identifying mining engineers whose personal papers became important additions to the University of Wyoming's American Heritage Center. Similarly, his former students remember Clark as a patient, tolerant, and friendly mentor, who conveyed his enthusiasm for sources to them and into their scholarship.

Each contributor to this special edition of the Mining History Journal is a former Spence student, colleague or friend who appreciates Clark's gentle humor, his love of history, and his determination to incorporate primary sources. In our individual ways, we have contributed to this special issue out of an affection for Clark, an appreciation for his example, and a satisfaction in acknowledging his contributions to the history of American mining and the American West.

Ronald C. Brown
San Marcos, Texas
The Mining History Association
2003 Journal

Articles

My Personal Reflections on Fifty Years of Mining History/1
Clark C. Spence

Looking for Mr. Wright:
A Tale of Mining Finance from the Late Nineteenth Century/6
Jeremy Monat

“Damned Blue Stuff”:
An Appreciation of Clark C. Spence/18
J. Thomas Murphy

“C. Spence Here”
Interviews of Gene M. Gressley/23
Ronald Brown

Benjamin Stanley Revett
and his Breckenridge Gold Dredges/33
Mark and Karen Vendt

Prospecting for Cultural Gold:
The Western Mining Film, 1935-1960/47
William Graebner

Sin, Sobriety, and Speeding:
Victorian Mining Towns’ Struggle for Respectability/71
Diane A. Smith

Interdependence in the Mormon Heartland:
Mutual Irrigation Companies and Modernization
in Utah’s Wasatch Oasis, 1870-1930/87
Thomas G. Alexander

The Boriana Mine/103
Mike Dunning

The Ingenious Community:
Georgetown, Colorado, and the Evolution of Western American Silver Mining and Metallurgy, 1864-1895/110
Robert L. Spude
Daniel C. Jackling and Kennecott: A Mining Entrepreneur’s Adjustment to Corporate Bureaucracy/133
Ronald Brown

Recent Publications on the History of Mining/143
Compiled by Lya Wegman-French

Book Reviews/149
Edited by Christopher Hoggard

Stanley W. Paher, Nevada Ghost Towns and Mining Camps Illustrated Atlas (4th ed.).
By Eric Nystrom.

By Richard Francaviglia

Helmut Waszkis, Dr. Moritz (Don Mauricio) Hochschild 1881-1965.
The Man and His Companies. A German Jewish Mining Entrepreneur in South America.
By John Hillman
After the Boom in Tombstone and Jerome, Arizona: Decline in Western Resource Towns
ERIC L. CLEMENTS
The process of decline is thoroughly examined through the histories of two Western towns that were reinvented as tourist attractions following their days of boom and bust.
408 pages, photos, maps; cloth $29.95, 0-87477-571-2

A Passion for Gold: An Autobiography
RALPH J. ROBERTS
A captivating autobiography by a pioneering geologist who played a crucial role in locating a thirty-million-dollar ore body that led to a modern-day gold rush in Nevada.
256 pages, photos, maps; cloth $29.95, 0-87417-502-X

Believing in Place: A Spiritual Geography of the Great Basin
RICHARD V. FRANCAVIGLIA
Historian and geographer Richard V. Francaviglia explores the connection between the environment and human spirituality in the Great Basin.
312 pages, photos, illus., maps; cloth $24.95, 0-87417-542-9

Calaveras Gold: The Impact of Mining on a Mother Lode County
RONALD H. LIMBAUGH and WILLARD P. FULLER JR.
California's Calaveras County—made famous by Mark Twain and his celebrated Jumping Frog—is the focus of this comprehensive study of Mother Lode mining.
392 pages, photos, maps; cloth $39.95, 0-87417-546-1

Bodie's Gold: Tall Tales and True History From a California Mining Town
MARGUERITE SPRAGUE
Interviews with former Bodie residents and numerous historic photographs are included in this lively history of California's official Gold Rush ghost town.
264 pages, photos, illus., map; cloth $34.95, 0-87417-511-9

The Glory Days in Goldfield, Nevada
SALLY ZANJANI
This extensive photographic essay by distinguished mining historian Sally Zanjani celebrates the centennial of the last gold rush on the Western frontier.
160 pages, photos, maps; cloth $31.95, 0-87417-520-8

University of Nevada Press / www.nvbooks.nevada.edu / 1-877-NVBOOKS